Rubber & PU Lining

Who we are

1984 marked the beginning of our journey as a belt manufacturer. After decades of product development and excellence, Century has transformed itself into an industry leader in the design, manufacture and supply of bulk material handling solutions.

Professionally managed, Century is backed by a strong engineering team whose experience in the field of rubber technology is apparent through its extensive product range.

With a strong commitment to quality and innovation, Century has ensured that its customers continue to receive solutions which exceed their expectations. Through a combination of in-house expertise and strategic alliances, Century has leveraged its core competencies in design, engineering and fabrication to emerge as a reputed manufacturer of conveyors and allied industrial products.

ISO 9001:2008 certified, Century is a member of the CII, CAPEXIL, AIRIA and is registered with the Indian Defence, Railways and various public sector organizations.

An organization with a strong product portfolio and a growth orientated approach, Century is open to global collaborations and strategic partnerships that will benefit its customers and advance its position in the global markets. It intends to make its products even more cost effective, upgrade its project management capabilities and continuously develop its human capital to enhance the value it offers to its customers.
